

JANUARY - 1933

Betty L. Stone

FOREWORD

It is fitting that we choose for the theme of our book that which has been an inspiration throughout our high-school career—Mount Hood. Milton, in "Paradise Lost", voices the feeling which fills our minds when we gaze upon the natural wonders which God has created

"In contemplation of created things
By steps we may ascend to God."

DEDICATION

The debt which we owe to those who have given so willingly of their time and labor in order that this book may be a success is incalculable. Therefore, it is to them that the January, 1933, "Lens" is dedicated.

ADMINISTRATION

HUGH J. BOYD, Principal

A great part of the knowledge we gain in high school comes not from books, but from the examples set for us by those whom we respect. Mr. Boyd has been an efficient text in the study of clean sportsmanship, high morals, integrity, unselfishness, fair-play,—in fact all the integral parts of the character of a real man or woman. For this, the class of January '33 is very grateful to our principal.

CLASS MOTTO

Gnothi seauton: "Know Thyself"

CLASS SONG

The memories of yesterday
We all hold staunch and true,
We've passed our years in work and play,
And now we'll turn anew;
The friends we've made are not in vain,
For they will linger too;
But dearest of all is just to recall
Our days at Washington High.

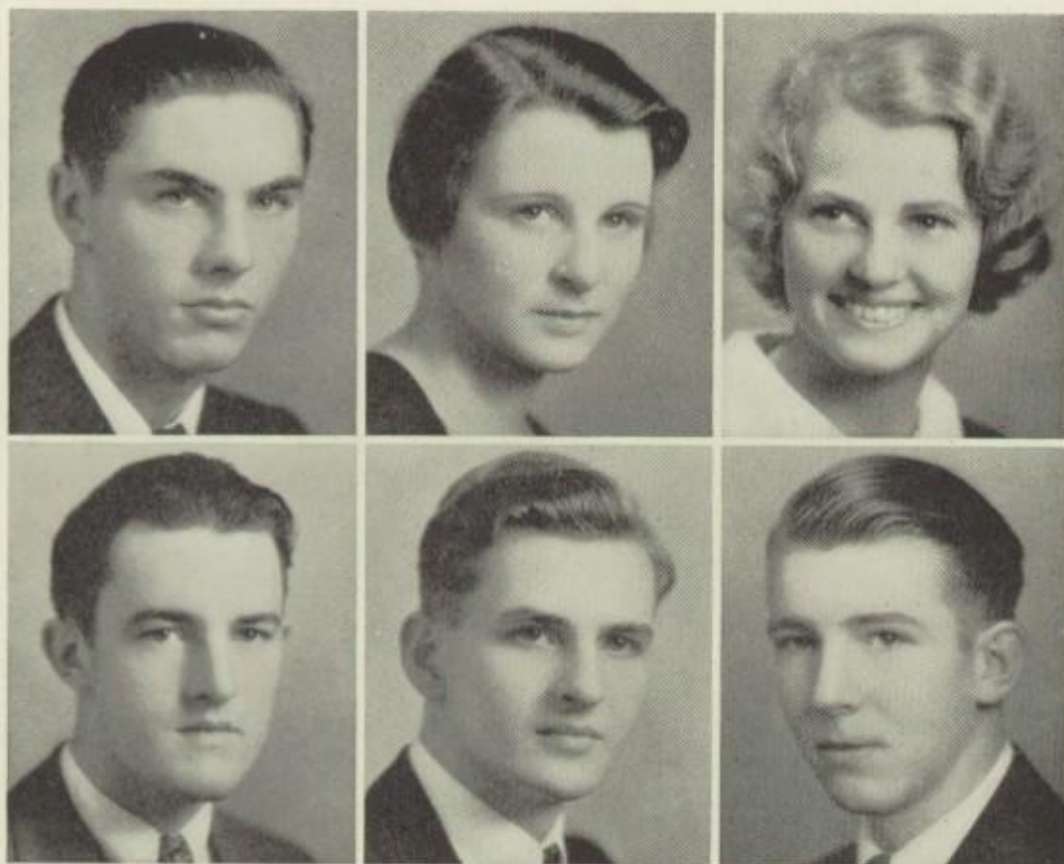

◆ ◆ CLASS ADVISORS AND OFFICERS ◆ ◆

Dr. Fenstermacher

Miss Kohns

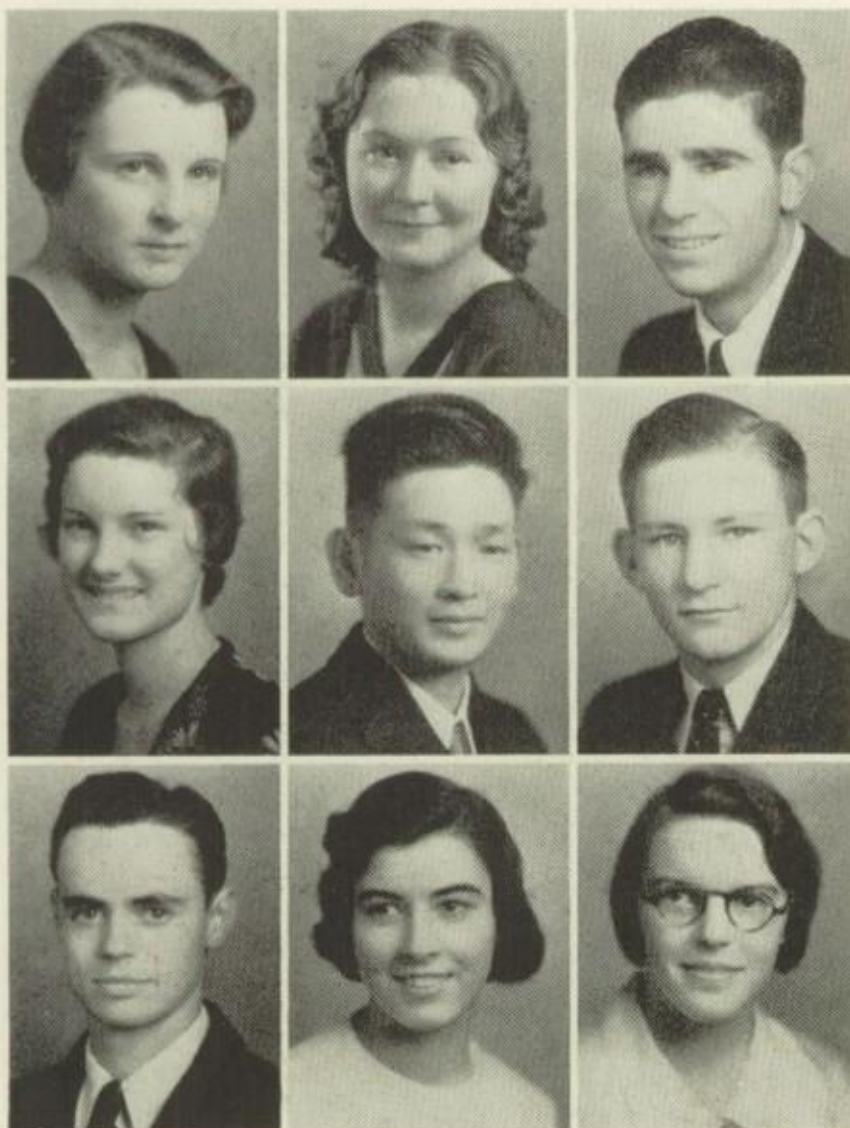

The sunny disposition and energy of Miss Kohns, the diligence and logic of Dr. Fenstermacher, the cooperation and resourcefulness of the officers—all have combined to make the class of January, 1933, one of the most efficient and successful in the history of Washington High School.

◆ CLASS HISTORY ◆ ◆

THE HISTORY OF THE JANUARY '33 CLASS

Freshman Year, January '29-January '30

In January '29 we, the class of January '33, first filed through the halls of Washington High School. We, like all the other freshmen, lacked the carefree manner which characterized our high and mighty senior brothers and sisters.

Shortly after our High School career had begun, we were honored one morning by the personal appearances of our senior brothers and sisters, who told us that they were inviting us to a time-honored event—the freshie frolic. We wore green ribbons on this occasion and were royally entertained by the seniors in the gym.

Sophomore Year, January '30-January '31

During this year our attention was centered mostly on our studies.

Junior Year, January '31-January '32

After over two years of hard work, we decided to give ourselves a class party. This necessitated a discussion which was very informal, but which nevertheless marked our first class meeting.

The Sixth Term Party, '31

Plenty of hard work by the various committees resulted in a very good party which was enjoyed by all.

Senior Year, January '32-January '33

Thus we entered January '32 with all the enthusiasm necessary to make the last year the best. The need for organization and leadership to guide us in our many activities we were contemplating, became evident. After heated discussions and lively campaigning, Karl Koch was elected president; Hazel Allmon, vice-president; Mary Lou Onstad, secretary; Fred Dupuis, treasurer; Allen Hadley, sergeant-at-arms; Jim Simmons, editor of The Lens, and John Boentje, business manager of The Lens. We chose for our advisor, Dr. Fenstermacher.

Seventh and Eighth Term Party, Spring '32

The first task of our new officers was this party. Its success showed us their true ability in leadership.

◆ ◆ CLASS HISTORY ◆

Freshie Frolic, October '32

Just as the seniors had done for us four years ago, so we took it upon ourselves to entertain and welcome the new Freshmen to Washington. We sincerely hope that they enjoyed the party as much as we enjoyed giving it.

Senior Vaudeville, October '32

It was surprising how much talent we found for our senior vaudeville. We were handicapped by a financial depression, but there is no doubt but what this vaudeville was one of the best ever given.

Class Play, November '32

On November 18 and 19, the class play, "The Swan," by Molnar, was presented. It was judged by many the best class play that had ever been presented at Washington for many a year. The class is deeply indebted to Mr. Matson, who so ably coached their play.

Baccalaureate Sermon, January '33

The sermon gave us many things to think about along with our departure from school. We have realized that graduation is only a step, the commencement of new, more useful lives.

Commencement, January '33

After four long years, we have at last reached our goal. The happy times we have had here at school are only memories now—gone forever but certainly never forgotten.

THE CLASS HISTORIANS,
Marjorie Roth and Elizabeth Naylor.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY ENJOYS WINTER CARNIVAL

MT. HOOD CRATER SCENE OF FESTIVITIES

The greatest social event of the year occurred this week when the most prominent people in the world piled their smart luggage and sport-things into their roadsters and town-cars and airplanes, sped up to Mt. Hood Crater, and prepared to spend their time enjoying the winter carnival at this famous resort. The busiest and most gracious hostesses were the great stage actress, Marjorie Roth and Maryanna Miller, the Head of the Miller Pep School, who entertained more than a hundred guests at their mansions. The first arrivals were Maxine Amacher, Carl Axelson, Norma Bell, and Earl Simonson. Guests drove up continuously, and the two houses were humming with excitement. Albert Erickson and Fran Lewis were seen tobogganing and Fran's giggles and screams could be heard clearly. Darwin Poyfair, Pauline Pruner, Elinor Rabehl, Dorothy Ford, William Hurl, and Bill Wakefield, who were standing around a cheerful open fireplace, were soon joined by Fred Sanders and Bob Wiren, who had just finished a snow-shoe hike. This group was broken up by the arrival of Hilda Burghardt, Leona Leonard, Suzanna Krettler, Roma McFarland, Spencer Cole, Edward Maas, Stanley Edkins and Herb Hiatt. These guests piled and scrambled out the big cable-cars which had been invented by the famous genius, Sprague Burdin. The Roth Ice Palace was crowded with such famous skaters as Helen Nickachiou, Geneva Noble, Donald Reifsnnyder, Morley Huff, James Harrison, Rika Eizema, and Joanna Eizema. Adelbert Closterman got too near a thin spot in the ice, so the ice-skating was disrupted and everyone decided to eat dinner and then dress for the Masquerade Ball which had been planned for the evening's entertainment. Billy Brownfield and Welland Howard volunteered to do the serving, as they had had so much experience in class plays. Paul McGrath was also persuaded to do so though with much reluctance. After the feast every one donned his costume and assembled in the palatial ball room where Ed Weiss' Snappy Snowballs rendered popular selections for the masqueraders. The talented orchestra was composed of the following musicians: Frank Amerata, Gordon Killiam, Roy Elmgren, Lewis Stewart, Don Wood, Bob Hunt, and George Cunningham. Bob Kehres favored the guests with a number of his own compositions which are known throughout the world. Among the gayly dressed dancers were Lois Fox, Don Ormsby, the automobile manufacturer, Earl Kidd, Evelyn Ogilvie, who had just returned from Spain, Leonard Heller, Margaret Knox, Jimmy Garber, and Dorothy Groves. The judges, Ned Stauffer, Walter Ogilvie, Phyllis Matthews, and Evelyn Schmurr, awarded the prizes for the best costumes to the smartest model in the famous Francaise Gown Shoppe, Maryalice Wisdom, who was dressed as an angel with silver wings and to Secretary of the Treasury, Fred Dupuis, who wore a scarlet devil outfit.

◆ CLASS PROPHECY ◆ ◆

The great professor, Gordon Raney, and the millionairess, Marylou Onstad, won the prize dance. Don Greenwood then caused Elizabeth Caldwell, Dean of Women at Vassar, and Marion Driggs, Beauty Expert, to disappear; but suddenly his magic failed him, with the result that a searching party was organized to find the two girls. They were finally discovered hidden high in a tree along with a big chocolate cake which also had mysteriously disappeared. The magician was promptly taken out and thrown into a snowdrift. Helen Smith sang a few numbers, until she was interrupted by Jim Simmons, the great lawyer, who characteristically began a heated argument with the clever actress, Margaret Turner, about "whence? why? and whither?". Before the debate could be settled, a loud whirring was heard and suddenly the roof crashed in! When the lights were again turned on, the guests found Phyllis Emery sitting in the middle of the ballroom in what was once her aeroplane. No one was seriously hurt, and the guests all hurried over to the Miller home where the merrymaking was resumed.

The next morning everyone watched the skiing tournament. Among the participants were Fred Beardsley, John Boentje, Milton Foland, and Leonard Frohwerk. The attempts of Bill Moores, Bill Hood, and Monroe McMahill ended in disaster and the sports had to be dragged out of a snowdrift feet first. Snowball warfare was being carried on, with Hazel Allmon, Gladys Anderson, Mary Durham, Valerie Ellingen on one side and Virginia Smith, Carolyn Gage, Eileene Jackson, Louise Webb, and Marjorie Woodward on the other. Virginia Sheets, well known tennis player, was sliding down a hill on a tin dish pan. Vivian Widmer and Nora Thomson got a thrill out of the big toboggan and were seen on it frequently. Florence Harrison, Melissa Deaver, and Barbara Brund had built a huge snowman, but Charles Chapman, Donald Brownlee, and Mike Ventrella charged it and the snowman was no more. Just then a big sleigh, drawn by horses, sped past with bells jingling. In it were Harriet Cashner of the Cashner Gum Corporation and Virginia Shaw, the famous Latin teacher. Eloise Brock and Barbara Burras were in the back seat wrapped in gay blankets and looking very cozy. Barbara was trying to memorize her part in a new play to be presented in New York in March. Elizabeth Naylor and Mary Ventrella went dashing by on their sled drawn by six huge Eskimo dogs. They were racing with Karl Koch and Duane Duke. Eleanor Pollitt was telling stories to the group of orphans she had brought up with her. Most of her time was spent keeping them from falling into glaciers, as was their habit. Larry McDowell was seen all tangled up in a pair of skis and a blanket which Jimmy Black had tossed over him. Lorne Rife, Earl Pagni, and Mike Matich began throwing snowballs at Ellis Cook, who had parked himself on a hilltop and was yodeling his head off. Lorraine Knapp and Charlotte Curl braved the icy coldness and were swimming in the pool. Olivine George and Paul Wieneke were on snowshoes, tramping through the hills. Just then Edward Huffs Schmidt drove up in his snappy roadster and invited everyone down to his private cabin for a wienie roast. So everyone piled into cars and drove to the cabin. Then Arlouine Bennett, Kathryn Davied, Jeanne Louise Frese, and Dorothy Grasinger sprang a big surprise. They had a movie camera and when a screen had been erected, the lights were extinguished and pictures of the class while at high school were flashed on the screen. Much laughing ensued over past activities and then Allen Hadley, owner of the famous Hadley Bloodhound Kennels, read a letter which he had received from Irving Korn, who was traveling in Europe giving lectures on "Social Problems of Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow." Irving said he had seen Celeste Fassio and Kathryn Legrande playing tennis at Wimbledon, and Kay Meyers dancing on the stage in Paris. He also had seen Corinne Goldstein, the well known dress designer, on the Riviera. After the letter was read, Madame Mari McLean told everyone's fortune. A clever tap dance was given by Mildred Huggins, Dorothee Lee Johnson, Mabeth Sadler, Winona Mason, and Evelyn Vaughn. Someone then turned on the radio and the voice of Winifred St. Helens, pianist and singer, was rendering "Washington, My Washington" in honor of the reunion. Tom Arai, clever writer, gave a splendid speech on "The Depression of 1932." A dramatization of an exciting play by Helen Meadows, author of many famous dramas, was also heard during the program. Such noted Washington actors and actresses as Mildred Kiehl, Ray Wilson, Evelyn Manor, Thera Palmer, Eugene Ware and Bonnie Porter took part in the production. Much to the general delight, the announcer proved to be Dean Bishoprick.

After this program, everyone returned to the Roth and Miller residences and were very much surprised to find the famous interior decorator, Lillian Rush and three aviatrixes, Doris Pagni, Inez Martinson, Katherine Powers, who had flown over from England to see all their old friends. Suddenly, Elizabeth Fox came rushing up in her roadster and announced that she had received a medal for one of her paintings and was leaving for Paris to attend the Beaux Arts Ball. Louise Skaggs, Champion Shorthand expert of the world, was asked to write down an account of the reunion of the January 1933 class of Washington High School. Then all "turned out the lights and went to sleep."

◆ CLASS POEM ◆ ◆

CLASS POEM

Still echoing through these dear Washington halls,
Our voices will linger in forced farewell.
Tomorrow this life which has meant much to all
Can be but a memory in mind's eye to dwell.
Our class, once a phalanx of long cherished friendships,
Having marched side by side with hearts full of hope,
Is broken, and each must now make his life's trip
Alone, but well armed, with opponents to cope.
Young though our lives, with ambition they're whetted,
Held by ideals and by great aspirations,
Causing the world's rich returns, all unfettered,
Before us to open in wide revelation.
For even the lowly has power of mind,
If he will but try to seek and to find.

—By Elinor Rabehl.

The May '33 class, under the presidency of Jack McGirr, and the able supervision of its advisors, Miss Mason and Mr. Green, has completed a most successful term. An outstanding accomplishment of the term was the sale of caramelized apples, which proved both popular and profitable. The class has already started work on the class play, which will be directed by Cecil E. Matson.

◆ ◆ ACTIVITY WINNERS ◆ ◆

Hazel Allmon

HAZEL ALLMON

Hazel has been active in every line of extra-curricular activity. She has been President of Masque, President and Vice-President of Ito, Secretary of the Girls' League, a member of the "Lens" and "Washingtonian" staffs, on the committees for the Senior Vodvil and Class Play, and Vice-President of the class. In all that she has undertaken, Hazel Allmon has done her best, and her "best" means something well-done.

JAMES GARBER

James has been active, not only in sports, but in the Student Body as well. He has been on the teams of basketball, football, and baseball. He was captain of the basketball team. His term as Student Body President has shown many of his executive, courteous, and practical qualities. Some of these were gained in his experiences as a member of the Executive Committee, Fire Squad, and Order of the "W."

STUDENT ACTIVITY WINNERS

Each term the boy and girl who have been judged the most active in school life are awarded the Student Activity Cup. The judging is done by the Executive Committee and some faculty members. The cup is awarded on activity, scholarship, personality, courtesy, and athletics. The committee finds it very difficult to select only two from so many deserving seniors, but does its best.

◆ SENIOR VODVIL ◆ ◆

FIRST ROW: Elmer Card, Parker Perry, Weldon Horn.

SECOND ROW: Bob Kehres, Dorothy Groves, Walt Johnson, Sam Milner, Gordon Killam, Adelbert Closterman, Betty Brogan, Jerry Reed, Violet Ketchum.

SENIOR VODVIL

This term the Senior Vodvil proved to be a great success, and was said to be one of the best given in Washington High School for some time. The "Television Idea" was presented and worked out well with Bob Kehres as the radio announcer of station W H S. Parker Perry and his orchestra furnished the music for the many good acts which were presented. Perhaps the most outstanding act was the last, a surprise. This presented the girls' chorus composed of ten boys who were dressed as girls in their beautiful dancing clothes. The boys were Earl Kidd, Walt Johnson, Ned Stauffer, George Cunningham, Morley Huff, Adelbert Closterman, Gordon Killam, Billie Brownfield, Bob Hunt, and Don Ormsby.

Dorothy Groves and Laurence Cunningham gave a very interesting dialogue. Harry Shaw and Fred Bradshaw, accompanied on the piano by Bill Boon, tap-danced. The trio, consisting of Betty Brogan, Jerry Reed, and Violet Ketchum, rendered a few vocal selections. Leonard Heller played the part of Walter Windshell and gave some inside information on some of the students. Wilna Rader also tap-danced.

Another popular feature was the "Lighthouse Mystery". The lighthouse keeper was played by John Boentje, Kenny Bowes was a detective, Leonard Heller a villain, Adelbert Closterman was the wife of the lighthouse keeper, and John Sellwood their son.

Much credit is due the committee who staged the production.

◆ ◆ CLASS PLAY ◆ ◆

Under the direction of our coach, Cecil E. Matson, and with the capable supervision of the Art Director, Miss Winifred Yager, the January '33 class play, "The Swan", was a huge success. The play, a modern comedy in three acts, was written by Frank Molnar.

The cast included:

Dr. Hans Agi.....	Gordon Raney
Arsen } Young princes	{ Mary Lou Onstad
George }	{ Helen Meadows
Princess Beatrice, their mother.....	Marjorie Roth
Alexandra, her daughter.....	Barbara Burras
Symphorosa.....	Margaret Turner

Princess Maria Dominica.....	Maryanna Miller
Countess Sibensteyn.....	Marjorie Woodward
Caesar.....	Paul McGrath
Alfred.....	Bob Kehres
Hussars.....	{ Bill Brownfield
	{ Welland Howard
Chambermaid.....	Elizabeth Naylor

Due credit must be given to the following members of the production staff who, with their able assistants, helped to make the play a success:

Assistant to the director: Phyllis Emery.

Stage crew: Philip Sluman, Bill Hood, Sprague Burdin, Jim Simmons, Bob Rennie, Jack Ferrell, Jack Butler, and Richard Kennedy.

Properties: Hazel Allmon, Gladys Anderson, Jimmy Black, and Walter Johnson.

Costumes: Mary Alice Wisdom, Frances Lewis, Marjorie Roth, and Phyllis Emery.

Business managers: Harriet Cashner and Fred Dupuis.

Advertising manager: Karl Koch.

Faculty advisors: Gwendolyn Kohns and Dr. Fenstermacher.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The activities of the executive committee this past term have been many and varied. The committee turned its attention to the cleanliness of the building. To better the conditions, garbage cans were secured and painted an attractive maroon color. This has helped a great deal in keeping the building clean.

An appropriation of fifty dollars was given to start sports for the girls. Basketball practice has been going on for about two months.

The committee has sponsored two dances; first, the regular student body dance on December 2; second, the dance given in January by the Parent-Teacher Association. Both were well attended.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

The Girls' League of Washington High School fosters friendship, loyalty, higher scholarship, and higher standards of womanliness among the girls in the school. Each year, this organization gives a scholarship fund of two hundred dollars to some capable and worthy girl. The money for the scholarship this year was raised by proceeds from the ring sale, the Leap Year Dance, and the performance given by Don Greenwood. The work of caring for all the girls and of promoting friendship, honor, and happiness among them is a great undertaking. It is one that has been undertaken cheerfully and successfully, due to the untiring efforts of the Dean, Miss Lamberson, and the faithful cooperation of the executive committee.

◆ "LENS" STAFF ◆ ◆

FIRST ROW: Don Greenwood, Frank Amerata, Eleanor Pollitt, Duane Duke, John Boentje, Jim Simmons, Phyllis Emery, Mary Alice Wisdom, Bill Hood.
SECOND ROW: Carolyn Gage, Elisabeth Fox, Elinor Rabehl, Mike Matich, Adelbert Closterman, Fred Dupuis, Allen Hadley, Paul Wieneke, Gladys Anderson, Ned Stauffer, Harriet Cashner, Hazel Allmon.

"LENS" STAFF

The writing and editing of an annual like the "Lens" is a big undertaking. The entire staff has worked very diligently in order that the book might be a success. However, without the cooperation and help of the faculty, the book would be a failure.

Miss Hansen has, as literary advisor, made helpful and constructive criticisms. Mr. Trenholme helped a great deal in financial matters. Miss Sykes and Miss Dowd have been very helpful in making stencils, giving advice, identifying pictures, in fact, in any way they could. To all these, the "Lens" is very grateful.

"WASHINGTONIAN" STAFF

During the past term, the "Washingtonian" has been very successful. The editor, with the cooperation of the staff has printed many good issues. The best, however, was the eight-page Christmas issue, the largest "Washingtonian" ever published.

The business staff has been able, despite the stressed times, to make the paper a financial success.

STUDENT COUNCIL

President.....	Paul Wieneke
Vice-President.....	Jim Simmons
Secretary.....	Hazel Letrud
Corresponding Secretary.....	Margaret Knox
Treasurer.....	Walt Johnson
Sergeant-at-Arms.....	Ralph Rittenour

The Student Council is an organization composed of the presidents of the major clubs, of the Girls' League, and of the Student Body; Editors of the "Lens" and "Washingtonian"; and of two members elected at large. It was organized in Washington High School in 1925. Its purpose is to decrease the number of books stolen from the school library, and to bring about better cooperation between the students and the library. This council was the first of its kind in the United States, but many have been organized since.

The Student Council has decreased the number of books lost about ninety per cent since it was organized. This term, the number has been lessened even more. The council sought the cooperation of all the students, without whose help the council would not be efficient.

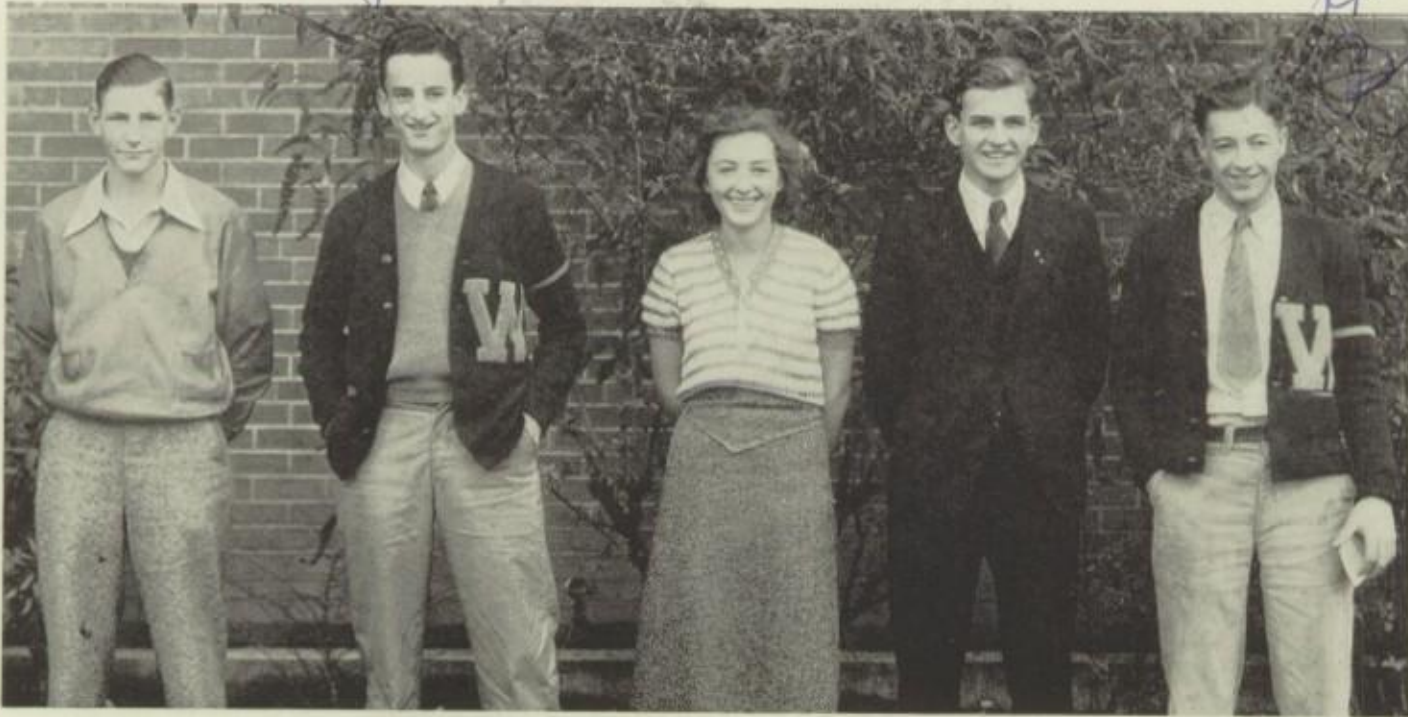

Much of this term's success has been due to the leadership of the officers, the guidance of Miss Lancefield, and the cooperation of Miss Sykes.

CAFETERIA BOARD

Chairman.....	Jim Simmons
Secretary.....	Jayne Bowerman
Treasurer.....	Harold Brack

The Cafeteria Board of Washington High School organized for the fall term in September, and elected the following officers: Jim Simmons, chairman; Jayne Bowerman, secretary; and Harold Brack, treasurer.

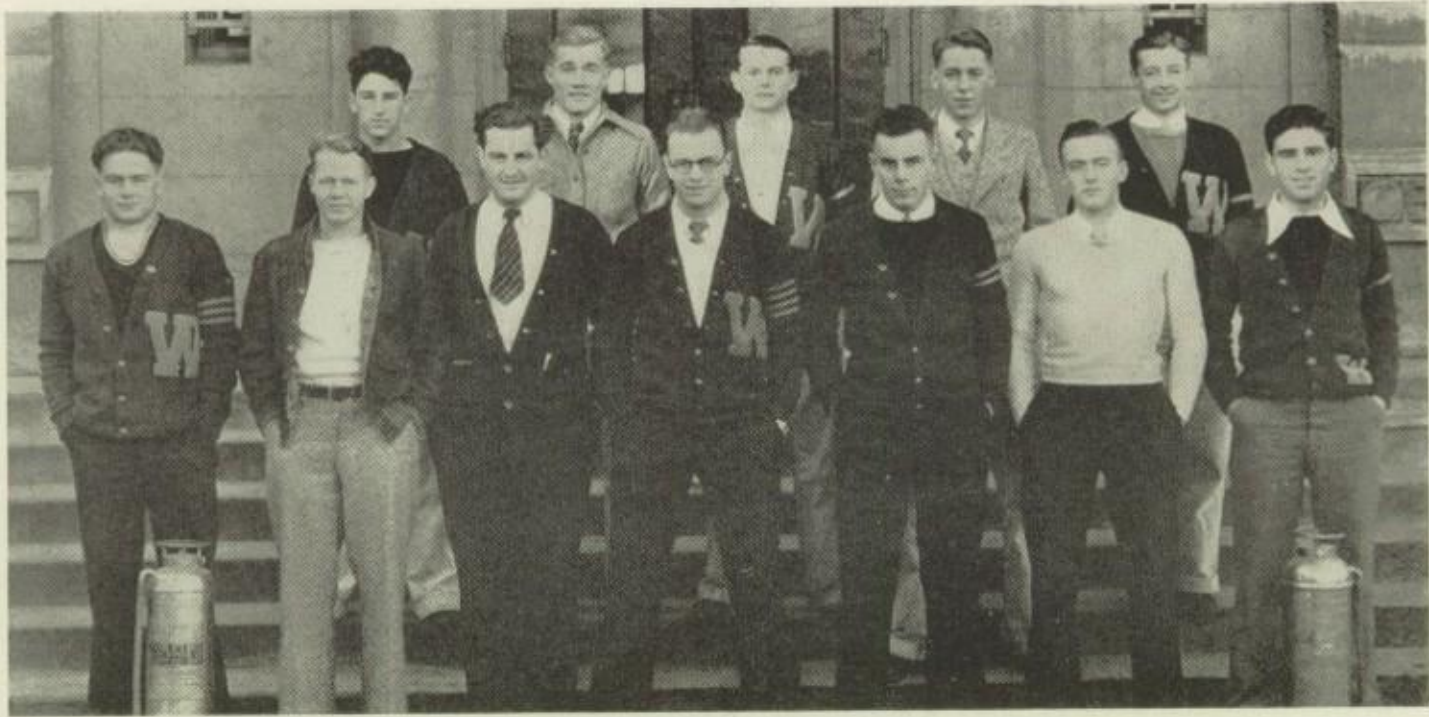

It was decided that this term the Cafeteria Board would concentrate on increasing the patronage of the cafeteria. To bring this about, a successful attempt was made to improve the quality of the food. In this project, the board was assisted by Miss Hobbs, who acted in the capacity of official tester.

The members of the board made announcements in the various registration rooms. This campaign has resulted in an increase in the amount of business done in the cafeteria.

The advisors, Miss Hobbs and Mr. Windnagle, have been of a great help in all the work the board has done.

The following members of the Cafeteria Board have served two terms and will not be back next term: Jayne Bowerman and Jim Simmons.

◆ FIRE SQUAD ◆ ◆

FIRST ROW: James Garber, Walter Ogilvie, Earl Pagni, Ray Kasper, Paul Wieneke, Larry McDowell, Frank Amerata.
SECOND ROW: Tony Amato, Tommy Collins, Duane Duke, Bob Gotthardt, Harold Brack.

FIRE SQUAD

During the past term, under the leadership of Chief Ray Kasper, who served his second term in that capacity, the fire squad has completed a successful season.

◆ ◆ LIVE WIRES ◆

LIVE WIRES

The Live Wires are chosen from each registration room at the beginning of the term. They help with all the student body activities in their room and create a better feeling of cooperation among the students. Memberships for the Student Body and the sale of "Lens" tickets are handled by these students.

The name, Live Wire, implies how busy these students are in their efforts to secure more interest among their fellows. Much depends on this group as to the failure or success of student activities.

The ability and enthusiasm of the officers and the cooperation of the members have made the past term very interesting and instructive for the Colonials, who have been studying journalism. With Harriet Cashner as president and Helen Fifer as program chairman, many enjoyable and profitable programs have been given. Mr. Miller, of Kilham's Stationery and Printing Company, added much to the club's knowledge by his talk on "The Writing and Printing of the 'Washingtonian'." Mr. Edward Miller, of the "Oregonian," also gave a very entertaining account of some of his experiences and of collecting material for news stories. Members of the club have contributed much interesting supplementary material on this subject.

The faithful advice and assistance of the advisors, Miss Colton and Mr. Hedrick, have guided the members through a very successful term.

The club extends its best wishes for a successful future to the following graduating members: Eloise Brock, Billie Brownfield, Harriet Cashner, Fred Dupuis, Mary Durham, Don Greenwood, Virginia Shaw, Jim Simmons, and Mary Alice Wisdom.

This term the Eukrineon Debating Society closed their activities with apparent successful result. Under the leadership of Bob Gotthardt as president and the other officers, the scheduled events were run off fine.

The Phreno-Euk dance turned out to be one of the biggest social successes of the term, and all the members are looking forward to the spring dance in May.

We were quite unfortunate in losing our capable advisor, Mr. Trenholme, who proved to be a big asset to our functions. However, with the aid of a new advisor next term we hope to carry out the high standards of our organization. The club wishes the best of success to the graduating men and hope they will return as often as possible to our meetings.

FIRST ROW: Percy Freeman, Bob Gotthardt, Ralph Rittenour, Harold Brack, John Boentje, Jimmy Black.
 SECOND ROW: Allan Knox, Walter Johnson, Larry McDowell, Karl Koch, Tommy Collins, Ed Weiss, Tom McCracken.

Hi-Y has completed a remarkably successful term under the leadership of Ralph Rittenour and his officers, and under the wise guidance of the advisor, Mr. Pierson. At the beginning of the term, seven neophytes were inducted into the club. They are living up to the standards of the Hi-Y and much is expected of them.

The members were very sorry to learn that the plans for the conference at Mount Hood had been put off. They are looking forward, however, to another conference at the seashore.

All the members are proud of the fact that Ralph Rittenour was elected president of the Inter-Hi-Y conference. This is a position that brings honor to the club.

During the term, Hi-Y undertook the sale of tickets to a benefit show at the Oriental Theater. This was a financial success.

Hi-Y wishes the best of luck in the future to the following graduating members: Jimmy Black, John Boentje, Karl Koch, Allen Hadley, Larry McDowell, Bill Moores, Lorne Rife, and Ed Weiss.

Masque has had a very successful term under the leadership of Hazel Allmon, president, and with the help of its advisors, Mrs. Currier and Mrs. McDonald. Mrs. McDonald was selected this term after the loss of Miss Barber, who was the advisor in the past.

Masque has produced many plays during the past term. The outstanding production, however, was the musical burlesque of Julius Caesar, which was given in the assembly and at the meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association on December 21. The cast included Wilna Ireland as Caesar, Jean Managhan as Calpurnia, Gerry Reed as Brutus, Betty Brogan as Portia, Virginia Van Fleet as Mark Antony, Frances Williams, Winifred Pembroke, and Adelyn Shields as the conspirators, and Roberta Bain as soothsayer. The play was received well by the audience.

A very successful tea was presented by Masque for the benefit of the Thelians, a dramatic club of Grant.

Masque will lose by graduation the following valuable members: Hazel Allmon, Barbara Burras, Phyllis Emery, Elisabeth Naylor, Marjorie Roth, and Margaret Turner.

Neakahnie has had a profitable and enjoyable term under the leadership of our capable president, Jayne Bowerman. This term's work has covered a review of "Green Pastures," by Mark Connelly, and "Shadows in the Rock," by Willa Cathers, and a very interesting talk by Miss Beach on her trip to Japan last summer.

The club greatly appreciates the efforts and cooperation of the advisors Miss Shaver and Mrs. Wells.

Neakahnie regrets the loss of the following graduating members, but wishes them all the luck in the world: Helen Meadows, Evelyn Ogilvie, and Mary Ventrella.

ORDER OF THE "W"

FIRST ROW: Tony Amato, Bill Roy, Walt Ogilvie, Max Stoddard, Vere Windnagle, Paul Wieneke, Bill Briody, Hal Lewis, Coach Wolfe, Harold Brack.
 SECOND ROW: Neil Hoyez, Frank Amerata, Earl Pagni, Ralph Rittenour, Tommy Collins, Ray Kasper, Dwight Snell, Clyde Walker, Harry Stepp, Dave Clausen, Earl Kidd, Tom Hutchins.
 THIRD ROW: Joe Oxley, Fred Davis, James Garber, Morley Huff, Duane Duke, Wally Dewitt, Matt Clasper, Marvin Gribble, Lee Carey.
 FOURTH ROW: Carl Axelson, Bill Harrow, George Wilson, Bob Holloway, Russ Shultz, Bob Beard, Arno Zancolli, Clem Jackson, Bill Kirkpatrick.

ORDER OF THE "W"

President.....	Paul Wieneke
Vice-President.....	Lorne Rife
Secretary.....	Harold Lewis
Treasurer.....	Walt Ogilvie
Editor.....	Max Stoddard

The Order of the "W" began the year auspiciously by electing as its president Paul Wieneke, who has led the club through a most successful term. Besides taking good care of its usual duties, such as maintaining order in assemblies, keeping the grounds neat and handling ticket sales, the club has accomplished many other worthwhile projects. It carried on a most successful pin sale at the start of the term, which put a good reserve in the treasury. An interesting father-and-son meeting was held, at which there was a good turnout. The club also placed two beautiful trees in the hall for Christmas as per custom. It continued its policy of inviting out to meeting men who were or are prominent in sport circles. The club would like to express its regret in losing the following members: Paul Wieneke, Frank Amerata, Walt Ogilvie, Carl Axelson, Duane Duke, Jimmy Garber, Earl Pagni, Lorne Rife, and Leonard Heller. The club wishes these the best of luck in their future undertakings.

◆ PACK ◆ ◆

FIRST ROW: Paul Wieneke, Frank Amerata, Karl Koch, Bob Kerr, Kenny Bowes, Walt Johnson, John Boentje, Bill Briody, Fred Warren, Ben Billings.
 SECOND ROW: Bill Kerr, Matt Clasper, Frank Day, Allen Hadley, Paul Flegel, Ed Pullen, Max Stoddard, Ed Weiss, Dean Pugh.

PACK

President.....	Walter Johnson
Vice-President.....	John Boentje
Secretary.....	Kenny Bowes
Treasurer.....	Bill Briody
Editor.....	Bob Kerr
Sergeant-at-Arms.....	Karl Koch

Under the leadership of our president, Walter Johnson, the Pack has completed a very successful term. The club was handicapped by the loss of last June's graduates, but has taken great strides to restore itself to the old standards. Part of this success was attained through the efforts of our worthy advisor, Mr. Harrigan.

The club has had two good hikes, one to Mount Hood and the other to the headwaters of the Clackamas. The members enjoyed the hikes greatly.

Pack regrets the loss of the following graduating members: Karl Koch, John Boentje, Paul Wieneke, Frank Amerata, Ed Weiss, Harold Hunt, Paul Flegel, Allen Hadley, Jimmy Garber, and Leonard Heller.

Phreno, under the capable supervision of its president, Margaret Knox, has completed a very successful term. The first important activity of the term was the Phreno-Euk dance, which was given on October 28. In November, the Phrenos held their semi-annual doughnut sale which met with the usual success. The organization also gave a tea for the Zetas of Jefferson High School.

However, the big event of the term was the Phreno-Euk debate held this year at the home of one of the Euks.

Near the end of the term, the club conducted a sale of "Goodbye" cards. This was a financial success.

The club wishes to express its sincere appreciation of the splendid and sympathetic cooperation of its advisors, Miss Dennis and Miss Crewdson.

Phreno regrets losing the following members through graduation: Margaret Knox, Florence Harrison, Mary Lou Onstead, Kay Myers, Lillian Rush, and Barbara Brund.

SPANISH DEPARTMENT

Editor.....	Helen Peterson
Assistant Editor.....	Anna Belle Day
Business Manager.....	Dick Johnson
Treasurer.....	Cliff Tingley
Collection Manager.....	Mildred Roberts

Eight years ago, the Spanish Department was started under the very capable supervision of Mrs. Peck. Just as improvements have been made every term in the past, long strides have been made this term toward bettering this club.

The real purpose of the Spanish Department is to make the Spanish language and the Spanish-speaking countries alive to the students of today, and to create a love for this beautiful language in the students.

The activities of the Department are centered around the Spanish paper, "El Reverbero", edited by Helen Peterson; the Spanish orchestra, led by Mary Crumley; the Spanish play, coached by Antoinette Drews. The Spanish paper is put out every two weeks. It is a four-page mimeographed publication. This term "El Reverbero" has been made more interesting by cartoons and colors.

The money taken in by the Spanish Department is used for a very worthwhile cause. Spanish dictionaries and books have been contributed to the school library by the Department. Next term the Department will place Spanish magazines in the library for those interested in this language.

The future of this Department depends upon the interest of the students.

TRI-Y

President.....	Lorraine Knapp
Vice-President.....	Elinor Rabehl
Secretary.....	Charlotte Curl
Treasurer.....	Valerie Ellingen
Editor.....	Elisabeth Fox

Tri-Y has had a very successful term under the leadership of Lorraine Knapp, president, and Miss Baltimore and Miss Beach, advisors.

Besides the business meetings held at school, the club has enjoyed many social activities. Outstanding among these are the Hallowe'en party held at Rock Creek Lodge, a dancing party, and the city-wide dance. Several other parties during the term were enjoyed by the girls. A farewell party, and two fireside hours are events which will long be remembered.

◆ ◆ COACHES ◆ ◆

COACHES

Though the only track activity was the minor cross-country team, Vere Windnagle has been busy ferreting out new material, giving helpful hints to the regulars, and in other ways building a championship team. His experience as a track star in his school days has helped a great deal in producing the excellent Washington High School teams.

Ray Wolf has finished a successful football season by taking second place in the city league. Immediately upon the cessation of the football activities, he started working with the basketball boys. Given a few more years at Washington, Wolf should make himself as famous as his predecessor, Eldon Jenne.

Gordon Bouck helped make the total of points scored against Washington so low by his efficient line-coaching. He developed one of the strongest lines in the city.

F. E. Harrigan is responsible for the golf and tennis teams turned out in Washington colors. Many famous players are graduates of Washington.

◆ SPORTS ◆ ◆

FOOTBALL

For Washington High School, the season just completed was moderately successful. We finished in a tie with Roosevelt for second place, having won two, lost one and tied four out of seven games played. The team also tied Hoquiam, the Washington state champions, in a preseason game. Only two victories in seven games doesn't sound very impressive, yet, the only defeat was by the championship Jefferson team, and that by a narrow margin of six points. Also, the ties were mainly because of adverse weather conditions. In view of these facts, the team should get much credit. Washington's defensive record stands with that of Jefferson's, each team having been scored upon twice. Offensively, however, we didn't fare so well, scoring only twenty-eight points.

The outstanding features of the team's play were: The ball-carrying of Collins and Greenland, Pagni's all-star ability, Kasper's exceptional playing as an end, Brack's ackling, especially on punts and kickoffs, Beard's punting, the defensive and blocking ability of the line as a whole. Probably the most sensational play of the season was the first play of the opening game in which Collins ran sixty-eight yards for a touch-down. The perfect blocking and interference of every teammate made the run possible. He followed his interference and cut excellently. It was truly the "perfect play."

CROSS-COUNTRY

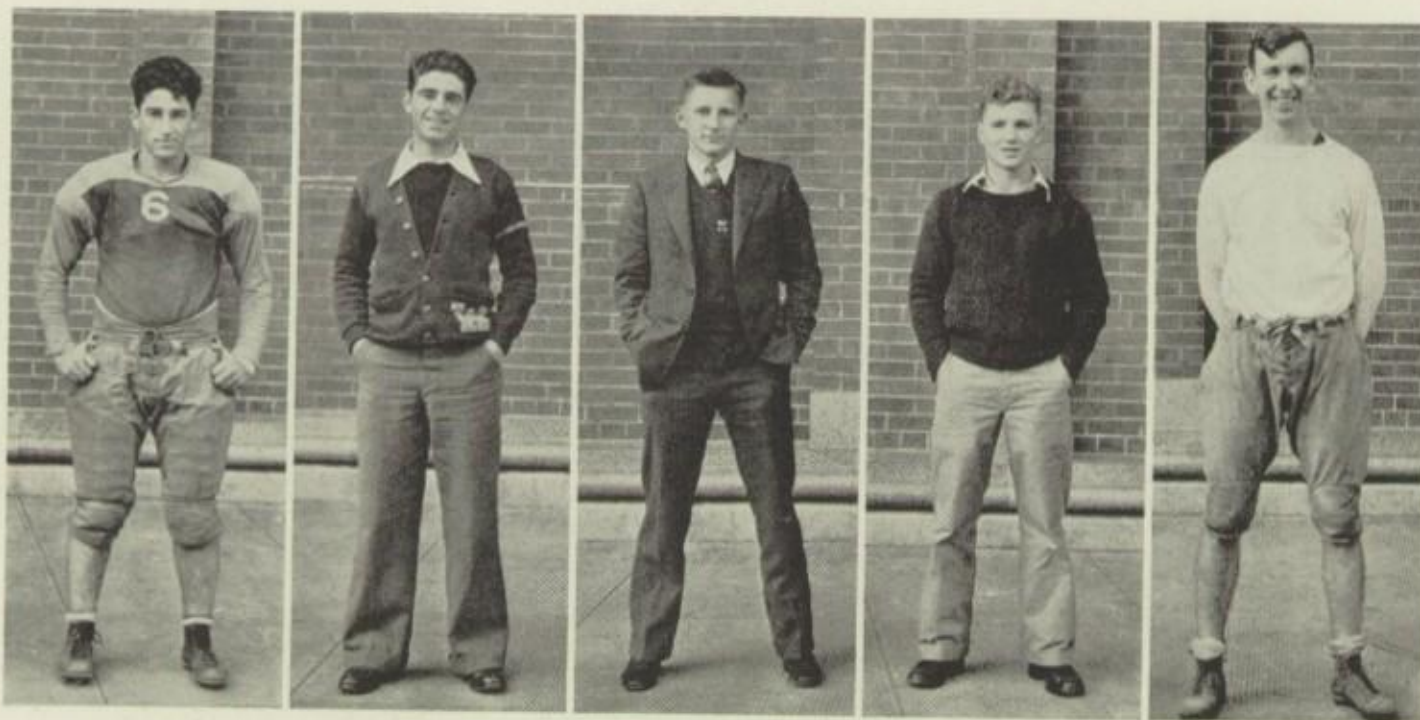

The Washington High School Cross-Country Team finished a fairly successful season by placing second in the state cross-country championship meet held at the Rocky Butte Course on November 22. This meet was won by Milwaukie High, with Washington second, and Grant third. Matt Clasper, of Washington, was the first of the 150 runners to cross the finish line. It was a hard race, with Walker, Milwaukie, and Hoyez, Washington, finishing second and third, respectively. Clasper's time was 11:49, a new meet record for the two-mile course.

The Colonials also engaged in several other meets. Dual meets with Milwaukie, Grant, Jefferson, and Hill, were held. Of these races, Washington lost the first two and won the last two.

The principal runners on the Colonial squad were Clasper, Hoyez, Gillham, Fisch, Zancolli, Hansen, Chapman, Kirkpatrick, Krum, Geary, Jensen, and Blanchard.

Although the team was handicapped several times by injuries, the season's outcome was successful. However, Coach Windnagle and the runners themselves are not satisfied with second place, and with the larger turnout expected next year, the team will be on top when the final race is run.

◆ ◆ FOOTBALL ◆ ◆

Tony Amato

Frank Amerata

Carl Axelsson

Eric Bellerby

Bob Beard

FOOTBALL PLAYERS

TONY AMATO, Tackle

Tony played great football for Washington this year. He will be back next fall, as captain, ready to fight for Washington.

FRANK AMERATA, Center

Frank played his second season on the maroon and gold this fall. Though he didn't play in many games, he certainly proved his mettle when given a chance.

CARL AXELSON, Halfback

Carl was another with exceptional ability. He could kick, pass and run. His ability in backing up the line was excellent.

ERIC BELLERBY, Backfield

A hard-hitting, hard-tackling back was Bellerby. He easily deserved his letter.

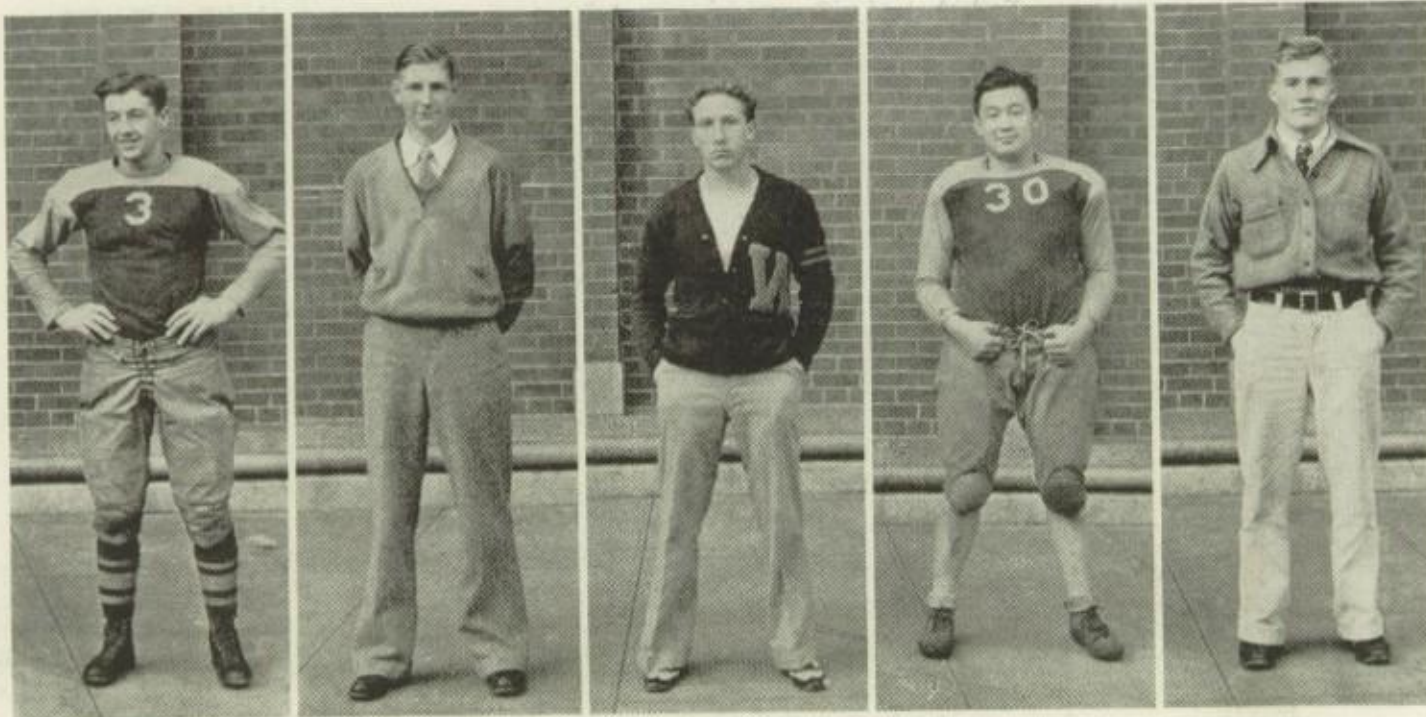

BOB BEARD, Fullback

Bob specialized in sending long punts down the field. He could block and tackle with the best of them.

Phil Bufton

Jimmy

◆ FOOTBALL ◆ ◆

Harold Brack

Kirk Bufton

Lee Carey

Charles Shimomura

Thomas Collins

FOOTBALL PLAYERS

HAROLD BRACK, End

Playing his first and last year on the varsity, Harold made good in a big way. He was one of the hardest tacklers in the league.

KIRK BUFTON, End

One of the youngest players, Kirk came through when he was needed. He should be a star when through.

LEE CAREY, Back

Lee is a "loose-hip" ball carrier. However, his specialty was drop-kicking. Lee has two more valuable years in the squad.

CHARLES SHIMOMURA, Tackle

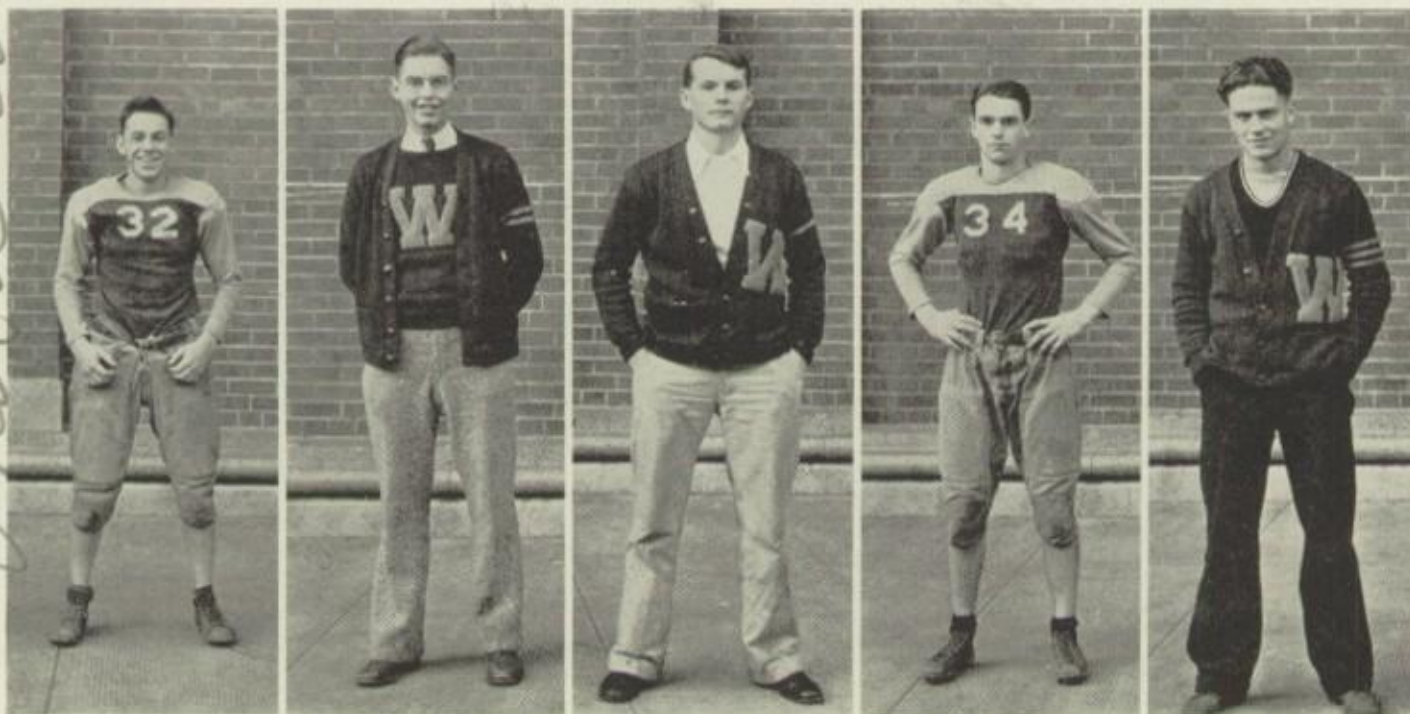

Chuck filled a big hole in the line. He will be heard of next fall.

THOMAS COLLINS, Quarterback

An excellent field-general, a wonderful passer, and an elusive ball-carrier—what more can be asked of a backfield man?

Fred Davis

◆ ◆ FOOTBALL ◆ ◆

Fred Davis

Wally DeWitt

Duane Duke

Percy Freeman

Jimmy Garber

FOOTBALL PLAYERS

FRED DAVIS, End

That he was one of the lightest men on the squad did not discourage Fred. He will be back next fall in a Washington uniform.

WALLY DeWITT, Back

Wally was an efficient back, though he was kept from some games by an injury sustained in mid-season. He will be back for two more years.

DUANE DUKE, Guard

Though hampered by injuries, Duane played great football. His defensive ability was his greatest asset.

PERCY FREEMAN, Back

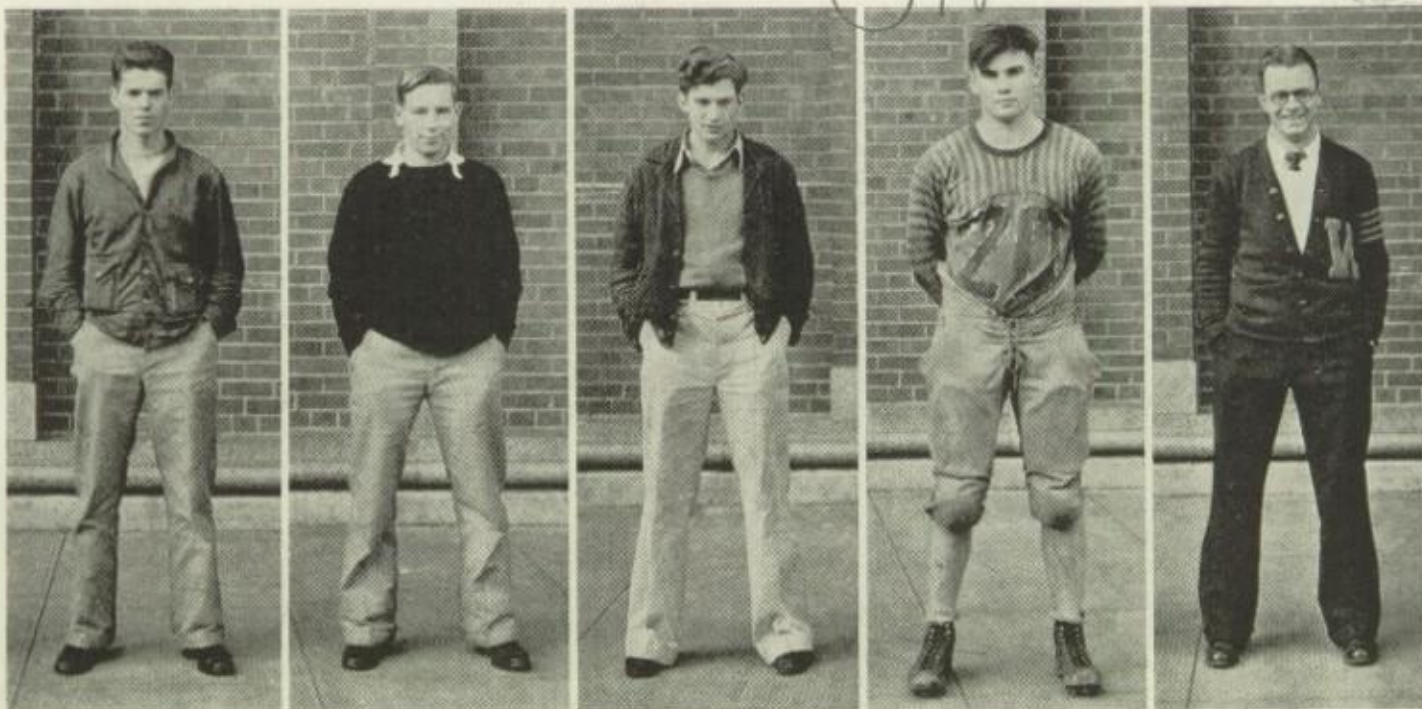

A fellow who is always doing his best is the best description of "Short." He proved his mettle in the game against Commerce High.

JIMMY GARBER, Back

Jimmy was a scrappy, hard-blocking, hard-tackling back. He was always doing his part.

◆ FOOTBALL ◆ ◆

P. Hutchins

Wallace Greenland

Sherman Hadley

Herbert Hiatt

Prescott Hutchins

Ray Kasper

FOOTBALL PLAYERS

WALLACE GREENLAND, Back

Wally was our best scoring threat this fall. His shoes will be hard to fill next year.

SHERMAN HADLEY, Back

Though he didn't play much this fall, Sherman will be back for three more years and should do much.

HERBERT HIATT, Tackle

Herbert, playing his third year on the first squad, was a valuable asset to the team. He earned his letter.

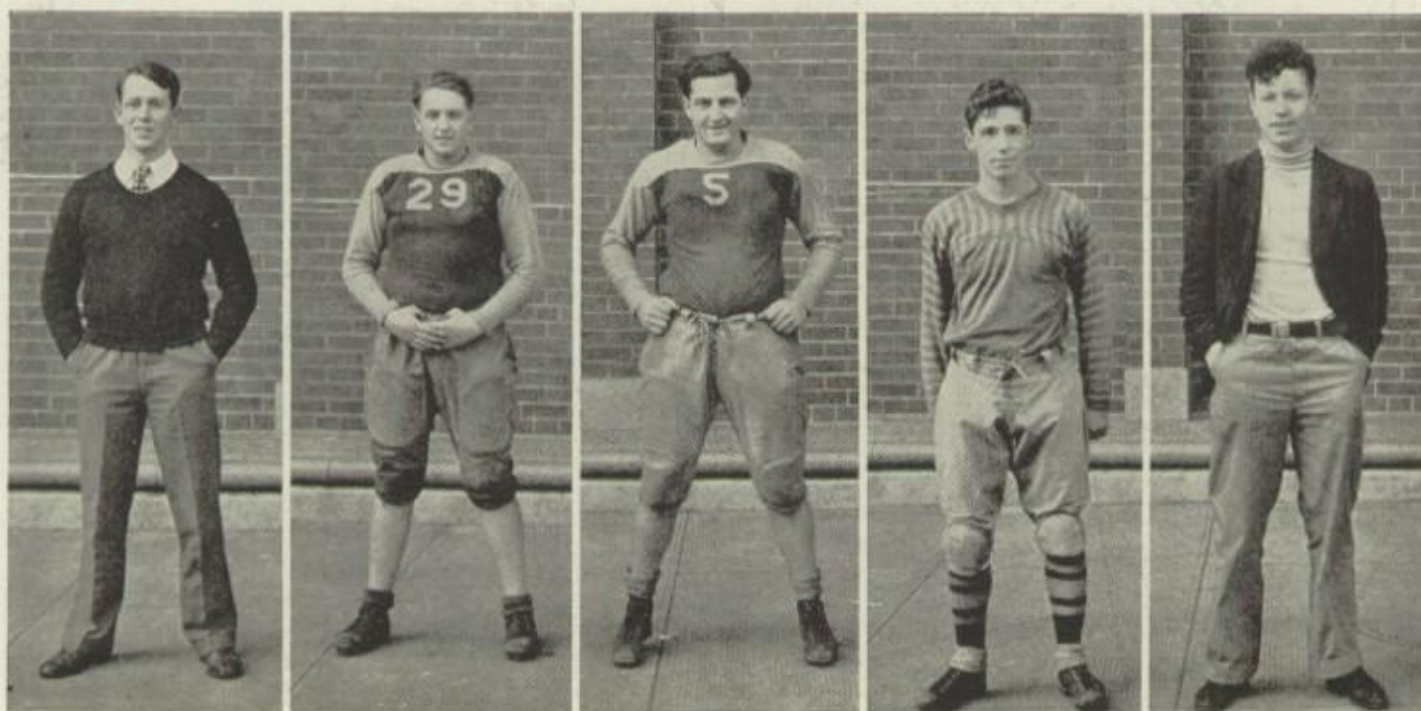

PRESCOTT HUTCHINS, Guard

A newcomer to the team who was an excellent blocker on offence, and a stalwart on the defence. He will be back next fall.

RAY KASPER, End

Ray was another fellow who played his fourth year for Washington. He could be depended upon to do his best, and his best was good enough to merit an all-star.

◆ ◆ FOOTBALL ◆ ◆

Bill Kirkpatrick

Charles Moore

Earl Pagni

Ed Povey

Clifford Tingley

FOOTBALL PLAYERS

BILL KIRKPATRICK, End

Though Bill didn't play much this fall, when he was given a chance, he proved himself a good player. He was an excellent tackler.

CHARLES MOORE, Tackle

Moore didn't play much this year. However, he will show up better in the future.

EARL PAGNI, Tackle

Captain Pagni played his fourth and last year for Washington High. He played both fullback and tackle, where his two hundred and twenty pounds worked for a good advantage. He was good enough at the latter position to merit all-star recognition.

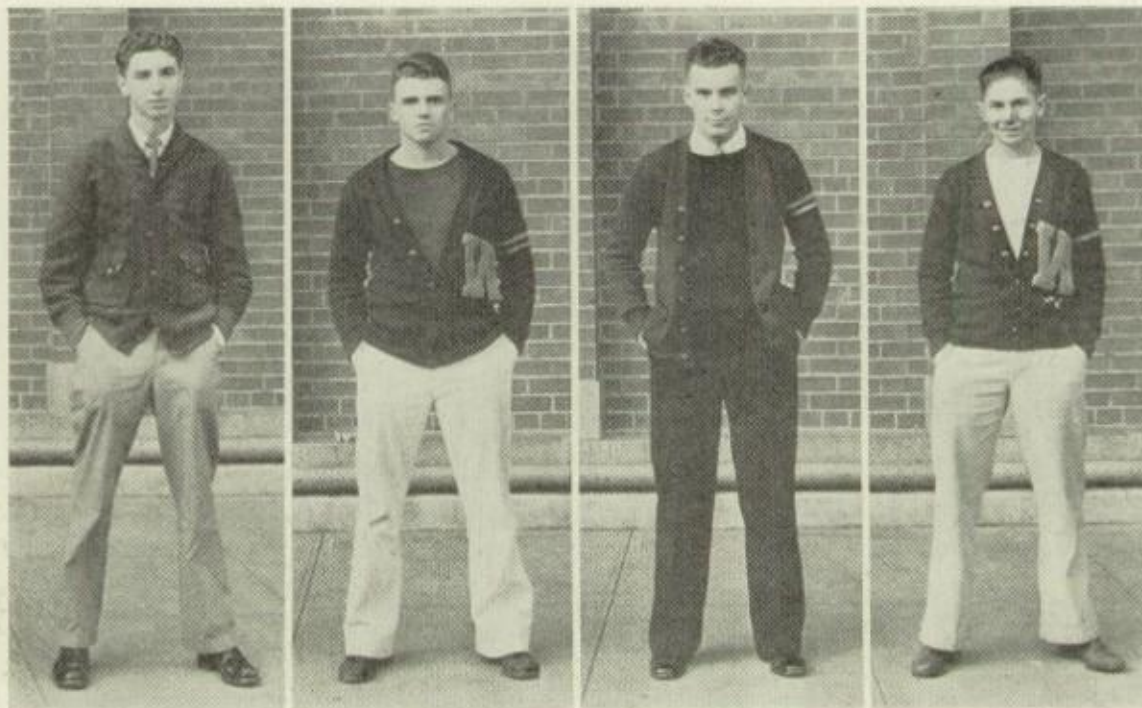

ED POVEY, Quarterback

Povey was the midget of the team, but he made up for his lack of size by his skill and speed.

CLIFFORD TINGLEY, Guard

A guard playing his first year on the team, "Ting" did good work. He will come in handy next fall.

◆ FOOTBALL ◆ ◆

Vigio Visetti

Clyde Walker

Paul Wieneke

Harry Stepp

Clyde Walker

FOOTBALL PLAYERS

VIGIO VISSETTI, End

One of the team's wealth of good ends, Vigio did not get much chance to play. He was good on defense.

CLYDE WALKER, Guard

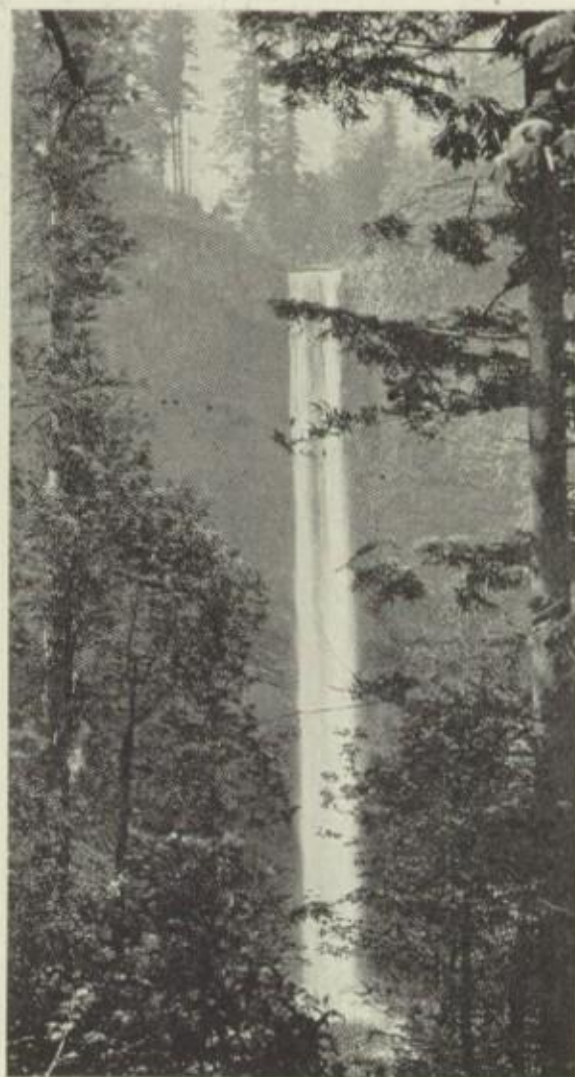

Clyde was a hard-fighting, aggressive guard. He was kept from many games by injuries.

PAUL WIENEKE, Center

Paul was strong defensively, especially against passes. He was quick on offense, and will surely be missed next fall.

HARRY STEPP, Manager

Harry, with his assistants, Eugene Ware and Jim Simmons, was responsible for the equipment of the team. He performed this difficult task well.

Miss Hays: What has four legs and flies?
Jimmy Garber: Four legs and flies? I give up.
Miss Hays: A horse.

Barbara Burras: I'm afraid the mountain air would disagree with me.

Harry Stepp: Don't worry, it wouldn't dare.

Karl Koch: Maryanna Miller says she is wildly in love with her new car.

Walt Johnson: That is what I would call Technocracy. Another case where man is displaced by machinery.

"A bottle of cream in every quart of milk"
WE FURNISH WASHINGTON HIGH SCHOOL

The sleight-of-hand performance was not going very well.

"Can any lady or gentleman in the audience lend me an egg?" asked Don Greenwood, coming out to the footlights.

"If we had any, you would have had it long before this", shouted Bill Moores from the audience.

♦ ♦ ♦

"It's the little things in life that tell", said Margaret Knox, as she dragged Alan from behind the davenport.

Adelbert Cloterman: Why is it that we fat fellows are always so good-natured?

Earl Pagni: Necessity, I guess. We can neither fight nor run.

♦ ♦ ♦

Fred Dupuis: Paul, you are the finest looking fellow I have ever met.

Paul Wieneke: Many thanks, Fred, but I am very sorry that I cannot return the compliment.

Dupuis: You could, if you were willing to lie as I have.

"Saving is Getting"

How many times we could get the thing we want if only we had been more saving! It is surprising how quickly money accumulates when saving becomes a daily habit.
